PLEXSYS Interface Products, Inc.

Founded in 1986, PLEXSYS is a modeling and simulation (M&S) software company with 30+ years of delivering Live, Virtual, and Constructive (LVC) training readiness solutions and innovation.

We are a 100% employee-owned small business, with more than 160 full-time employees plus part-time consultants in nine states and four foreign countries.

We are driven to enable our customer's best readiness and success. Our passion is enabling better training...everyday...across the globe. Our value is measured by how our people and products add to our customer's success. We aspire to be your trusted training partner. We accomplish this by delivering solutions which enable live/synthetic blended training events and exercises.
